Education

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Ph.D., Political Science • Exam Fields: American Politics, Public Policy & Public Administration • Dissertation: Unequal Representation in Local Democracies: An Analysis of Public Opinion and Policy Outcomes in U.S. Cities • Committee: Paru Shah (chair), Tom Holbrook, Joel Rast, Kathy Dolan	Milwaukee, WI 2020
---	------------------------------

Project Description: In my dissertation project, I ask whether constituent preferences are equally represented in local policy outcomes. Applying new methods for the estimation of subnational public opinion, I show that local policy is responsive to citizen preferences, but some opinions appear to count more than others. In order to better understand why unequal preference representation exists, I also explore the institutional processes through which representation occurs.
